

19 May 2025 I desire to have infinite amount of money in my bank account irrespective of whether it is a source of pain or pleasure.

I just feel overwhelmed today due to lack of money in my bank account - my spendings are so much that I am unable to earn so much on *one hand and on the other I cannot borrow it either - because no would lend it either, moreover I have no intention to pay back either - I call myself a parasite, live like one and hate other parasites as I see them as a competition to me

I have spent a good lot of money on sexual pleasures in the last week or so, the reason to do so has been a never ending desire to satisfy sexual pleasures. I have to acknowledge that it is indeed an addiction and I have failing to control it every now and then. Somehow, I feel exhausted now, those Montich LC pills are kicking in now and they make me drowsy.

Today, I gave away my clothes for laundry - I am not sure, how much is he going to charge me. I gave it to laundry because I do not want to take it back to P and expect her to wash it using the machine and hang it. Another drink, I choose not to be part of - just put it all aside and wave it out. I am sure they can live without me and, I shall be able to continue living as long as I have money here. I hate being too rigid in my thinking - it bothers me sometime - maybe I should go back and sleep for few more hours as the med is kicking in and then try to return back to get back the stuff. Monday mornings are unforgettable, even when I try hard to forget about it altogether.

* I shall scribble some more as I fail to do the work I thought I would do here - the reason I am not quite sure and some reason I believe that it's better to doze off and sleep.
